HIGHLIGHTS for 2011-2012

District allotments and assignments	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Please check your district to be sure you know your correct allotment and assignment. Some of the district code numbers may have changed so check those too!
Materials	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • All of the materials are on the website. Go to www.greaterdanetag.org. Click on Student Programs and go to Yahara. The FORMS are separate from the explanations and instructions.
Entry formatting requirements	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What is CRUCIAL are the word counts and line counts. Entries can be disqualified for going over these counts. • Font, font size, and margins are specified, but are not as important. We will print clean copies of each text entry on the editing day, and may even change some of these things.
Judging copies	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • READ the directions for preparing entries. Some things have been tweaked to help out the judging chair. • When you bring your entries in January, divide the judging copies into 3 complete sets. You must put each set into a different judging folder.
Procedure for electronic copies	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It is a good idea to collect electronic copies of your entries in Word format so that you have them available when they are requested in February. • In late February, the list of Top Ten winners will be sent to you. DO NOT announce winners at this time, since entries over the word counts could still be disqualified. • You will have approximately two weeks to send electronic copies of your winning text entries to the editing chair. CHECK THE WORD/LINE COUNTS to be sure your students won't be disqualified on the editing day.

2011-2012 Yahara River Writers – The Basics

What is Yahara?

Yahara is a writing/cartooning contest for students in grades 5-8. It is sponsored by the Greater Dane County TAG Network. Students may enter ONE piece in any ONE of these categories: Cartoons, Editorials, Poetry, Short Stories. All participating districts are expected to help with various aspects of the Yahara Project as assigned.

Register to Participate

In the fall, districts register to participate in the Yahara Project. Registration fees are based on each district's "allotment" for total number of entries, which is based on the district enrollment. If your "allotment" is 3, then you may enter 3 pieces in each category per grade: 3 fifth grade poems, 3 sixth grade poems, 3 seventh grade poems, 3 eighth grade poems, 3 fifth grade cartoons, etc. Districts must pay the fee for their allotment. (Some districts create their own publication in order to include more pieces than can be submitted to Yahara.)

Work with Teachers

Through December, TAG or other personnel work with 5-8 teachers in their districts to encourage and solicit entries from students. This packet contains handouts for teachers about each of the categories and all of the requirements.

Prepare Entries for Submission

In January, a district representative will prepare the entries for submission, following all of the guidelines that will be provided.

January Collection Day

A district representative must bring all of the entries IN PERSON to the January TAG Network meeting by 8:30 a.m.

Judging

Judging districts are assigned to read all of the entries, and to select the ten best in each category per grade level. From the ten best, the top two (first and second place) are identified.

Yahara River Writers Anthology

All of the top ten entries are published in the anthology. Each student published and each district registered receives ONE copy of the anthology. Additional copies can be ordered for $10.

Top Ten Workshop

In May, all authors of the top ten entries are invited to a workshop on the UW campus. A keynote speaker and breakout sessions for guided activities are highlights of the workshop.

District Allotments and Fees 2011-2012

Allotments

This chart shows the number of entries you may submit per category per grade. If your allotment is 3, you may send in 3 poetry entries for 5th grade, 3 for 6th grade, etc. Allotments are based on 2010-2011 FTE membership data for the district, rounded to the next higher 500, with one entry allowed per every 500 students. There is a minimum of 2 and a maximum of 10 entries per district.

Fees

Fees are based on allotments. Districts MUST pay the fee for their allotment.

If your allotment is...	then your fee is...
2-3	$60
4-5	$90
6-7	$120
8-10	$150

The number (#) listed for your district is the one to be used on coding student entries.

District Assignments 2011-2012

Assignments

All districts are needed to assist with various aspects of the Yahara River Writers Project. Listed below are the areas each district is assigned to help this year. More details of your assignment can be found in the Chair Overviews document. Each participating district is REQUIRED to follow through on the assignment. If you wish to trade your assignment, please work that out between districts and notify the Chairs involved. If you cannot fulfill your assignment, you must locate your OWN replacement. Districts new to Yahara should contact Martha Barlow for a district number and an assignment.

(To find more specifics about your assignment area, refer to the overview page for that area.)
